

NOTIFY MR. BRYAN OF HIS NOMINATION

THOUSANDS OF NEW YORKERS GREET HIM.

Governor Stone and Chairman White Formally Announce His Selection For the Presidency By the Democratic Party—His Reply and Acceptance.

New York, Aug. 13.—The vast assemblage which gathered to witness the notification of William Jennings Bryan and Arthur Sewall as nominees for president and vice-president on the democratic ticket was called to order Wednesday precisely at 8:15 p. m., by Chairman Jones of the national committee. Hon. Elliott Danforth of New York was made chairman. Mr. Danforth said:

"You did not expect from me a speech, and in that you will not be disappointed. I have pleasure in presenting to you as chairman of the notification committee the distinguished governor of Missouri, the Hon. William J. Stone." Gov. Stone stepped to the front of the platform, and when the outburst of applause had subsided made the speech of notification.

At the conclusion of Gov. Stone's remarks he handed to Mr. Bryan an engrossed copy of the resolution of notification adopted by the committee.

When Mr. Bryan took the parchment there was a wild outburst of applause, and while it was still filling the hall, Chairman Danforth said: "Fellow-citizens, the next speaker needs no introduction at my hands, for his name is a household word throughout the land. I have the pleasure in presenting to you the democratic nominee for president of the United States, the Hon. William J. Bryan."

The applause continued for some minutes and was renewed again and again, Mr. Bryan standing and waiting for an opportunity to begin his speech.

Foremost among the prominent men on the platform, seated at the left, was Arthur Sewall, the Bath ship-builder and candidate for the vice-presidency, a vigorous-looking man whose frame told of the New England air. There was Gov. Stone of Missouri, a thin-faced man, ministerial in his bearing, and the presiding officer, Elliott Danforth, ex-treasurer of the state of New York. Among the prominent democrats arrayed back of the platform were: Senators Blanchard of Louisiana, Gorman of Maryland, Roach of North Dakota, Tillman of South Carolina; Congressmen Richardson and McMillin of Tennessee, Livingston of Georgia, Rusk of Maryland; Gov. Hogg of Texas, and many others who had borne parts in the convention which nominated Mr. Bryan.

Finally Mr. Bryan managed to still the applause, and began his speech amidst comparative silence. His speech in part was as follows:

"Those who stand upon the Chicago platform are prepared to make known and to defend every motion which influences them, every purpose which animates them and every hope which inspires them. Andrew Jackson has stated with admirable clearness both the duty and the sphere of government. He said: 'Distinctions in society will always exist under every just government. Equality of talents, of education or of wealth cannot be produced by human institutions. In the full enjoyment of the gifts of heaven and the fruits of superior industry, economy and virtue every man is equally entitled to protection by law.' We yield to none in our devotion to the doctrine just enunciated.

"Our campaign has not for its object the reconstruction of society. We cannot insure to the virtuous the fruits of a virtuous life; we would not invade the home of the provident in order to supply the wants of the spendthrift; we do not propose to transfer the rewards of industry to the lap of indolence. Property is and will remain the stimulus to endeavor and the compensation for toil. We believe, as asserted in the declaration of independence, that all men are created equal; but that does not mean that all men are or can be equal in possessions, in ability or in merit. It simply means that all shall stand equal before the law, and that government officials shall not, in making, construing or enforcing the law, discriminate between citizens.

"We are not surprised to find arrayed against us those who are the beneficiaries of government favoritism—they have read our platform. Nor are we surprised to learn that we must in this campaign face the hostility of those who find a pecuniary advantage in advocating the doctrine of noninterference when great aggregations of wealth are trespassing upon the rights of individuals. We welcome such opposition—it is the highest endorsement which could be bestowed upon us. We are content to have the co-operation of those who desire to have the government administered without fear or favor."

He defended the income tax plank of the Chicago platform in eloquent words, concluding: "The last income tax law, with its exemption provision, when considered in connection with other methods of taxation in force, was not unjust to the possessors of large incomes, because they were not compelled to pay a total federal tax greater than their share. The income tax is not new, nor is it based upon novelty to the rich."

He then turned to the paramount issue of the campaign, the money question, saying:

"It is scarcely necessary to defend the principle of bimetalism. No national party during the entire history of the United States has ever declared against, and no party in this campaign has had the temerity to oppose it. The republican platform expressly declares that bimetalism is desirable when it pledges the republican party to aid in securing it as soon as the assistance of certain foreign nations can be obtained. Those who represented the minority sentiment in the Chicago convention opposed the free coinage of silver by the United States by independent action on the ground that, in their judgment, it would retard or entirely prevent the establishment of international bimetalism, to which the efforts of the government should be steadily directed. The gold standard has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Take from it the powerful support of the money-owning and the money-changing classes and it cannot stand for one day in any nation in the world. It was fastened upon the United States without discussion before the people, and its friends have never yet been willing to risk a verdict before the voters upon that issue.

"Our opponents sometimes admit that it was a mistake to demonetize silver, but insist that we should submit to present conditions rather than return to the bimetallic system. They err in supposing that we have reached the end of the evil results of a gold standard; we have not reached the end. The injury is a continuing one, and no person can say how long the world is to suffer from the attempt to make gold the only standard money. The same influences which are now operating to destroy silver in the United States will, if successful here, be turned against other silver-using countries, and each new convert of the gold standard will add to the general distress. So long as the scramble for gold continues prices must fall, and a general fall in prices is but another definition of hard times.

"The farmers are opposed to the gold standard because they have felt its effects. Since they sell at wholesale and buy at retail they have lost more than they have gained by falling prices, and, besides this, they have found that certain fixed charges have not fallen at all. Taxes have not been perceptibly decreased, although it requires more of farm products now than formerly to secure the money with which to pay taxes.

"Debts have not fallen. The farmer who owed $1,000 is still compelled to pay $1,000, although it may be twice as difficult as formerly to obtain the dollar with which to pay the debt. Railroad rates have not been reduced to keep pace with falling prices, and besides these items there are many more. The farmer has thus found complaint against the gold standard.

"The wage-earners have been injured by a gold standard, and have expressed themselves upon the subject with great emphasis. In February, 1895, a petition asking for the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at 16 to 1 was signed by the representatives of all, or nearly all, the leading labor organizations and presented to congress. Wage-earners know that while a gold standard raises the purchasing power of the dollar it also makes it more difficult to obtain possession of the dollar; they know that employment is less permanent, loss of work more probable and re-employment less certain. The farmers and wage-earners together constitute a considerable majority of the people of the country. Why should their interests be ignored in considering financial legislation?

"It is only necessary to note the increasing number of failures in order to know that a gold standard is ruinous to merchants and manufacturers. If the people cannot buy, retailers cannot sell, and, if the retailers cannot sell, wholesale merchants and manufacturers must go into bankruptcy.

"Mr. Blaine, speaking in the house of representatives on Feb. 7, 1878, said: 'I believe the struggle now going on in this country and other countries for a single gold standard would, if successful, produce widespread disaster in and throughout the commercial world. The destruction of silver as money and the establishing of gold as the sole unit of value must have a ruinous effect on all forms of property, except those invested which yield a fixed return in money. These would be enormously enhanced in value, and would gain a disproportionate and unfair advantage over every other species of property.'

"We are told that any attempt upon the part of the government to redeem its obligations in silver would put a premium upon gold, but why should it? The Bank of France exercises the right to redeem all bank paper in either gold or silver, and yet France maintains the parity between gold and silver at the ratio of 15 1/2 to 1, and retains in circulation more silver per capita than we do in the United States.

"We contend that free and unlimited coinage of silver by the United States alone will raise the bullion value of silver to its coinage value, and thus make silver bullion worth $1.29 per ounce in gold throughout the world. This proposition is in keeping with natural laws, not in defiance of them. The best-known law of commerce is the law of supply and demand. We apply this law to money when we say that a reduction in the volume of money will raise the purchasing power of the dollar; we also apply the law of supply and demand to silver when we say that a new demand for silver created by law will raise the price of silver bullion.

"If our mints are opened to free and unlimited coinage at the present ratio merchandise silver cannot come here, because the labor applied to it has made it worth more in the form of merchandise than it will be worth at our mints. We cannot even expect all of the annual product of silver, because India, China, Japan, Mexico and all the other silver-using countries must satisfy their annual needs from the annual product; the arts will require a large amount, and the gold-standard countries will need a considerable quantity for subsidiary coinage.

"We will be required to coin only that which is not needed elsewhere; but if we stand ready to take and utilize all of it, other nations will be compelled to buy at the price which we fix. I am firmly convinced that by opening our mints to free and unlimited coinage at the present ratio we can create a demand for silver which will keep the price of silver bullion at $1.29 an ounce, measured by gold.

"Our opponents cannot ignore the fact that gold is now going abroad in spite of all legislation intended to prevent it, and no silver is being coined to take its place. Not only is gold going abroad now, but it must continue to go abroad as long as the present financial policy is adhered to, unless we continue to borrow from across the ocean, and even then we simply postpone the evil, because the amount borrowed, together with interest upon it, must be repaid in appreciating dollars. There is only one way to stop the increasing flow of gold from our shores, and that is to stop falling prices. The restoration of bimetalism will not only stop falling prices, but will—to some extent—restore prices by reducing the world's demand for gold.

"Those who deny the ability of the United States to maintain the parity between gold and silver at the present legal ratio without foreign aid point to Mexico and assert that the opening of our mints will reduce us to a silver basis and raise gold to a premium. It is no reflection upon our sister republic to remind our people that the United States is much greater than Mexico in area, in population and in commercial strength. It is absurd to assert that the United States is not able to do anything which Mexico has failed to accomplish. The one thing necessary in order to maintain the parity is to furnish a demand great enough to utilize all the silver which will come to the mints. That Mexico has failed to do this is no proof that the United States would also fail.

"It is also argued that, since a number of the nations have demonetized silver, nothing can be done until all of those nations restore bimetalism. This is also illogical. It is immaterial how many or how few nations have open mints, provided there are sufficient open mints to furnish a monetary demand for all the gold and silver available for coinage.

"We are told that the restoration of bimetalism would be a hardship upon those who have entered into contracts payable in gold coin, but this is a mistake. It will be easier to obtain the gold with which to meet a gold contract when most of the people can use silver than it is now when every one is trying to secure gold.

"In conclusion, permit me to say a word in regard to international bimetalism. The advocates of free coinage have, on all occasions, shown their willingness to co-operate with other nations in the reinstatement of silver, but they are not willing to await the pleasure of other governments, when immediate relief is needed by the people of the United States. How long must we wait for bimetalism to be brought to us by those who profit by monometallism? If the double standard will bring benefits to our people, who will deny them the right to enjoy those benefits? We shall not offend other nations when we declare the right of the American people to govern themselves, and, without let or hindrance from without, decide upon every question presented for their consideration. In taking this proposition we simply maintain the dignity of 70,000,000 citizens, who are second to none in their capacity for self-government."

He concluded with the following appeal to the citizens of the great state whom he was addressing:

"Citizens of New York: I have traveled from the center of the continent to the seaboard that I might, in the very beginning of the campaign, bring you greeting from the people out west and south, and assure you that their desire is not to destroy, but to build up. The advocates of free coinage believe that, in striving to secure the immediate restoration of bimetalism, they are laboring in your behalf as well as in their own behalf. A few of your people may prosper under present conditions, but the permanent welfare of New York rests upon the producers of wealth. The great city is built on the commerce of the nation, and must suffer if that commerce is impaired. Production of wealth goes before the exchange of wealth. You cannot afford to join the money changers in support of a financial policy which, destroying the purchasing power of the products of the soil, must in the end discourage the creation of wealth."

The delivery of Mr. Bryan's speech consumed nearly two hours, and its finish was greeted with hearty ap-

WISCONSIN GOLD DEMOCRATS TO MEET SOON.

Says the Convention Will Probably Be Held at Milwaukee, August 25 or 26—Talks of Third State Ticket—Populists in Illinois Fuse With Democrats.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 13.—Ellis B. Usher of LaCrosse, who has been circulating a call for a state convention of gold democrats, was in town yesterday and talked freely about the situation. He said: "Our convention probably will be held Aug. 25 or 26 at Milwaukee. At this convention we shall elect delegates to the national convention at Indianapolis in September and a state central committee and chairman. We shall also decide whether or not to run a third state ticket and what policy to pursue. It is probable that we shall run separate tickets for congress and the legislature, as there is a United States senator to be chosen this winter, and as the complexion of the house of representatives is as important as the presidency. I believe that the silver people will control the democratic state convention in September." Mr. Usher is one of the leaders among the bolting democrats and is giving his entire time to organizing the gold democrats of the state.

ILLINOIS GOLD DEMOCRATS.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Anti-silver democrats issued the call for their state convention Wednesday. It is to be held in Chicago Aug. 25. The actual call is prefaced by a recital of the causes which Chairman Ewing and his associates in the anti-silver movement claim makes the holding of a second convention necessary. Then the document takes up plank by plank the platform adopted by the Chicago democratic national convention with the intention of showing that the declaration of the convention is not a democratic platform. It is believed that Senator John M. Palmer will be chairman of the convention. The leaders in the movement do not expect that there will be any rush for places on the ticket, as they do not hope for success in any event.

ILLINOIS POPULISTS TO FUSE WITH JOIN WITH THE ATTACHED IN THE STATE CAMPAIGN.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—The populists of Illinois met in convention here Wednesday and nominated the entire democratic state ticket, with the exception of W. F. Beck for auditor, who resigned. The place was filled by the nomination of A. L. Maxwell of Flat Rock.

Although the convention had been called for 10 o'clock, it was 11 o'clock before Chairman Maxwell called the delegates to order. The Rev. M. F. Troxwell of this city offered prayer. Chairman Maxwell made a speech, in which he briefly reviewed the history and work of the populist party, a record of which, he said, they had no reason to be ashamed. When the speaker alluded to the financial issue and said that he felt no doubt as to where the people's party would stand the cheers shook the building.

C. E. Palmer of Richland county was introduced as the temporary chairman and made a brief speech of thanks.

The Rev. George Mueller of Canton was called upon and made a speech of some length.

The committee on rules reported and an attempt to change the representation on the state committee from senatorial to congressional districts was defeated. The committee on credentials then reported on the Cook county contest. It was decided to seat the Taylor delegates, and to allow the Burns men to fill the vacancies existing.

It was decided to refer all resolutions to the committee on platform without reading. After the places of meeting of the several committees had been announced by the chairman the convention took a recess until 2 p. m.

When the convention was called to order the report of the committee on permanent organization was read and adopted, presenting the name of H. G. Jones of Jefferson county as chairman, W. C. Pecking of Lonsant as secretary, James Lindsay of Decatur as assistant and for sergeant-at-arms E. J. Lindholm. The chair appointed A. L. Maxwell, E. J. Lindholm and W. F. Hess, committee to escort the permanent chairman to the platform. Chairman Jones was introduced, and made a strong speech. He ridiculed the "50-cent dollar" idea and the "Mexican dollar argument," and denounced them as unfair. He declared that the people's party never had made a mistake, and that he was convinced that whatever action the convention might take it would be right.

A motion to adjourn as lost, and the committee on platform then reported the following, which was adopted: "We, the people's party of the state of Illinois, in convention assembled, hereby adopt the following platform: '1. We heartily endorse the platform of the people's party adopted in St. Louis July 2, 1896, as a statement of our political principles relating to national questions, especially emphasizing that the assurance of money by the national government, without the intervention of banks, and the free coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 is the predominant issue of the pending presidential campaign, and we are in favor of all honorable ways and means by which a union of all citizens who agree with us upon this issue may be effected.

"2. We recognize the present system of taxation in the state of Illinois, and its practical application as a gross injustice to the great mass of the people, and we demand of our next legislature that they devise a more equitable system, an we favor local option in taxation as a measure to that end.

"3. We favor the submission of an amendment to the state constitution giving the legislature power to enact laws, and provide for their enforcement, regulating contracts and conditions that may arise from time to time between corporations and their employees, and we also favor the adoption of the amendment to the constitution which is to be voted upon at the next general election, which provides that the legislature may submit three amendments to be voted upon at the same general election.

"4. That we favor such legislation as will prevent the product of convict labor of our state coming into competition with the product of free labor.

"5. We recognize the fact that there are various questions relating to state issues and local government not covered in the above resolutions, and as to such issues we call attention to the fact that our national platform declares for direct legislation by the initiative and referendum, and we are in favor of the adoption of a system of direct legislation under proper restrictions in dealing with our state and local affairs by which all of said questions may be duly considered and voted upon by all law-abiding citizens."

"6. Resolved, That the administration of Gov. Altgeld deserves unstinted praise for its earnest and able devotion to the rights of the people, and its fearless efforts to correct public abuses and bring under control public depredations should have the unqualified approval of all law-abiding citizens."

An adjournment was then taken until 8 o'clock.

At the evening session Charles E. Palmer made a speech urging the acceptance of the offer made by the Democratic party to place four populist electors on the state ticket, and offered a resolution naming Dr. Howard S. Taylor and Herman Alschuler of Chicago, Herman E. Taubeneck of Marshall and John P. Stelle of Mount Vernon as the choice of the convention. After a spirited debate it was decided to nominate the candidates singly and the four men named were nominated.

The electors on the democratic ticket were endorsed with the exception of F. M. Youngblood, elector-at-large, G. F. Foster of the 3d district, George M. Lechrone of the 19th district, and Joseph B. Gill of the 22d district, who will be withdrawn to make room for the populists.

The convention then took up the nomination of a candidate for auditor and a lively fight was precipitated. Five candidates were named, but before a ballot was completed A. L. Maxwell was nominated by acclamation. The remainder of the ticket is identical with the democratic ticket. The convention then adjourned.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Games Played in the National League Yesterday.

Brooklyn did good work yesterday and Baltimore's winning streak was broken and a whitewashing administered them at the same time. Payne pitched marvelous ball for the Bridegrooms and had the Orioles at his mercy. Philadelphia turned the trick with the Senators, and not a run did the men from Washington score. Upon the Colonels' stamping grounds the Spiders and Louisville broke even with the same scores. The games resulted:

To Fuse in Michigan.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—A great political combination is on the point of being culminated by the democrats, free-silverites, populists and perhaps the prohibitionists of Michigan. At a conference of leading representatives of the first three of these parties, held Wednesday night, a definite plan of action was agreed upon, and it was further settled that if the prohibitionists would abandon their state ticket and join forces with the new allies they would be admitted to a distribution of the patronage.

The last report issued by the Pasteur Institute in Paris shows many gratifying results. In the year 1895 1,520 persons suffering from rabies or incipient rabies were inoculated and only two died.

SILVER MEN UNITE WITH DEMOCRATS

FUSION IS ACCOMPLISHED IN IOWA.

Boies and Weaver Named For Electors—at-Large in the Democratic State Convention at Ottumwa—Chicago Platform Indorsed by the Convention—Other Proceedings.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 13.—The plan of fusion fixed upon by the democrats, populists and free-silver republicans of Iowa, in conference Tuesday, was carried out to the letter in the democratic state convention Wednesday. The platform on which the ticket goes before the people is as follows:

"We, the democrats of Iowa, in convention assembled, heartily indorse, and hereby affirm, the platform adopted by the national democratic convention at Chicago in 1896 as a true and correct statement of democratic principles. Recognizing in the financial issue the great and controlling question of the present campaign we invite all voters, irrespective of past party affiliations, who are in favor of the interests and prosperity of the great masses of the people, to join with us in carrying the election this fall to the end that financial relief may be given and prosperity restored to the country."

That the fusion was earnest was demonstrated by the fact that the populists and free-silver republicans entered the convention and took as prominent a part in it as the democrats themselves.

Gen. Weaver was the prominent figure of the convention. In an address which he made before it he congratulated the democratic party on "coming back to him," and declared that at last there was no distinction or difference between democrat, populist or silver republican, and that all were the participants in a political miracle this year, guided by a divine hand which would place William Jennings Bryan in the white house and put congress in control of the free-silver people.

It took but an hour to make the nominations of the state ticket, every nomination being made by acclamation. Following is the ticket:

For elector-at-large—Horace Boies, democrat; Gen. James B. Weaver, populist.

District electors—First, A. F. Kuhlmeier of Des Moines, democrat; 2d, Thomas Stapleton of Iowa, democrat; 3d, C. W. Green, democrat; 4th, A. Kimble of Winneshiek, democrat; 5th, Louis Metzgar of Marshall, democrat; 6th, Perry Engle of Jasper, populist; 7th, C. C. Lumis of Polk, democrat; 8th, D. C. Bradley of Appanoose, democrat; 9th, J. J. Shea of Pottawattamie, democrat; 10th, J. B. Butler of Webster, democrat; 11th, F. F. Roe of Monona, populist.

Secretary of State—L. H. Karr of Clark, democrat.

Auditor of State—G. W. Davis of Louisa, populist.

Attorney-General—William D. Boies of Sioux, democrat.

Treasurer—Charles Ruegnitz of Clayton, democrat.

For Supreme Judge—Senator Bolter of Harrison, democrat.

For Railroad Commissioner, Long Term—Amos Steckel of Davis, silver republican.

For Railroad Commissioner, Short Term—Thomas J. Denson of Fayette, democrat.

The state committee reorganized with E. W. Curry of Leon, chairman; E. M. Carr of Manchester, secretary. John Foley succeeded himself in the 4th. Henry Reigelman succeeded himself in the 7th. H. L. Throop of Mount Pleasant was chosen in the place of A. Smith of Keosauqua.

The following telegram was sent to the chairman of the Bryan notification committee at New York city:

"The democrats of Iowa in state convention assembled send greeting and, by resolution instruct me to say that there is in progress in Iowa a political revolution, and that Iowa will cast her thirteen electoral votes for Bryan and Sewall.

"A. VAN WAGENEN."

TO ESCAPE DISGRACE.

South Bend (Ind.) Banker Dies When His Defalcation Is Discovered.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 13.—Josiah E. Kelley, assistant cashier and paying teller at the First National bank, the oldest and wealthiest in this city, shot himself through the heart Wednesday. The deed was done at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, but the fact was not discovered until 6 o'clock. Bank Examiner Vance arrived here very unexpectedly and called at the First National bank. He discovered a big disparity in the accounts of the bank and asked Kelley for an explanation. Kelley promised one later.

From the dead man's pockets were taken letters addressed to Bank Examiner Vance, to Capt. Ed B. Reynolds, a near friend, and also to his wife and brother. The letter to the examiner said there was a shortage of $24,108, which he had been able to conceal since 1891 by going over the books with the examiner. There was nothing missing since 1891. He said that his estate would make good the loss, he being insured heavily. Kelley's defalcation will not cripple the First National bank, as it is one of the wealthiest in Northern Indiana.

MONEY THEY PAID IS THROWN AWAY

WHEELMEN'S PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION IS NO MORE.

Cycle Company Charges an Officer With Embezzlement, and Say He Wrecked the Concern—Many Janesville Riders Were Members—Accused of Swindling.

Janesville wheelmen who insured their bicycles in the American Wheelmen Protective Association may be interested in knowing that E. Duncan Sniffen, late secretary and treasurer of the now defunct association, is "hiding out," according to the constables from Justice Glennon's court to save him from the arrest of the alleged embezzlement of $12,000 of the funds of the association of which he was an officer.

Constable Buchanan of Justice Glennon's court, who has a warrant for Sniffen, has searched the city over, but without success. Evidently Sniffen anticipated arrest, for shortly before the arrival of the officer he ordered, from some point in the city, by telephone, his office boy to place all his valuables in his safe and "mix" the combination.

The warrant charging Sniffen with embezzlement was sworn out by Henry Barker, president of the late King B. Cycle Manufacturing company. Barker claims that Sniffen's speculations will more than quadruple $12,000, but he places it at $12,000, because he does not know exactly what the true amount is.

The suspicions of Barker as to Sniffen's alleged crookedness grew out of the fact that Sniffen repeatedly and steadfastly refused to allow Barker, who is one of the directors of the association, to look over the books.

Books Never Audited.

"A so-called committee was appointed to examine the books," Mr. Barker said, "but failed to do so."

The alleged purpose of the American Wheelmen's Protective association was to protect bicycle owners from loss by theft. All members were taxed two dollars per year. In the event of the member losing his wheel the association loaned him a wheel until his was recovered and the thief punished. Almost from the organization of the concern, last January, it sprang into prominence, and money rolled into its coffers, so Barker claims and he is backed up by E. C. Knowles, the office man of the concern.

According to the latter, over 33,000 members paid $2 each, less the agent's commission of 75 cents on each application, so the association since its organization. Of this amount they claim Sniffen has paid but the bare expenses of the association and pocketed the rest. Claims against the association amounting to $1,500 accrued during the past few months, Sniffen refused to pay. Barker and Knowles claim Sniffen's mismanagement was not due to his incompetency, but that he deliberately entered into the scheme for the purpose of defrauding everybody, his fellows in the company included.

The officers and directors of the now defunct company were: President, Charles E. Kremer; vice president, Glenwood Preble; secretary and treasurer, E. Duncan Sniffen, John Q. Blake, and P. H. Barker.

Boasted of Previous Successes.

Barker and Knowles say it was Sniffen's proud boast that he had wrecked thirteen business enterprises, but always with success to himself in a financial way.

These gentlemen charge Sniffen also with having had in his service a company of bicycle thieves led by Tony Carver, alias "The Viper," now in the penitentiary, who stimulated the business of the association by their wholesale thefts, and they further say he used one of the store-rooms of the King B bicycle building as a hiding-place for the stolen wheels.

The friends of Sniffen claim that his former business associates are endeavoring to blackmail him because he outgeneraled them in the scheme to make money by means of the bicycle association. Sniffen and Barker were formerly partners in the manufacture of the King B bicycle. The company went to the wall because Sniffen withdrew $9,000 of its funds, claiming that amount was due his wife for money advanced the firm.

"There are many wheelmen in this city who insured their mounts in the American association," said a local rider, who saw the above clipping from a Chicago paper. "The proposition was one that impressed a person most favorably, so many paid their $2."

BUFFALO BILL'S TENT WRECKED

Violent Storm Prevents the Performance at Muskegon, Mich.

The main arena tent of Buffalo Bill's wild west show was wrecked at Muskegon, Mich. last night by the southern edge of a cyclone, which struck shortly before 7 o'clock. The main body of the storm apparently passed to the northward. The full force of the wind, which was accompanied by a deluge of rain, struck the long tent near the main entrance. It is the custom to fill up the seats on the north side of the arena first and had the storm come ten minutes later, these seats would have been crowded with spectators. The wind rent great gashes in the canvas tore out the tent fastenings and blew the seats into the arena. For a moment the air was filled with flying boards. The employees had been using their utmost exertions to keep the people out of the tent, and in their efforts some of the men were struck by the flying seats. The dressing tent, where the troopers and the Indians were preparing for the performance, rocked like a cradle, giving them a vivid taste of a Michigan gale. The entire outfit was so badly demoralized that after a council it was decided to omit the performance and move on to Benton Harbor. It is estimated that the gale caused a loss to the show of from $5,000 to $6,000.

Bill's Janesville date is August 27.

CROPS ARE HEAVY AND TILLERS GLAD

THE YIELD IS THE BEST IN SEVERAL YEARS.

Rain Interferes With the Work Of Threshing—Clinton Mourns J. O. Mayberry's Death—Fairfield Horses and Hogs Killed By the Heat—Other County News.

Cooksville, Aug. 13.—Crops of all kinds are the best here for years. The tobacco is very fine and corn is looking high. Oats are yielding an average of forty-five bushels to the acre. The army worm got here just a little too late to do a great deal of damage, but they will be here next year. A force of six men went from here last week to the Lyett farm to help Chet Miller with his threshing. Over six thousands bushels were threshed and not all finished. Some stacks still remain. Allen Viney feels elated over his oats, a little over six hundred bushels from eleven acres and an immense growth of straw. The heavy rains have delayed the threshing somewhat in the shock, but the grain in the stacks is all right. Sperry Bros. are doing big business this season with their two machines. The hottest week on record around here, was last week. Threshers at Chet Gilley's had to rest at hour, to let the thermometer get off from its roost of 102. The men could only keep at work by rushing to the tank and wetting their heads and hands. Jack Lienu and Giles McCarthy are drawing off their tobacco in the bundle. It was sold last spring. James Gillis met with quite a misfortune the last night of their stay at the assembly. His horse got cast during the night, and when found in the morning, was so bad that a veterinary surgeon was called from Madison. He was obliged to remain until Monday morning, when he started with it for home, and was until Tuesday noon getting there, a distance of sixteen miles. As the horse is their best, as well as their family horse, they will miss his services for some time to come. Mrs. Avis Brown will teach the Cooksville school the coming year. Mrs. Nettie Stebbins and Mrs. Bell Stebbins have returned from their Vermont trip much improved in health and looks good. Many visitors look in at our kindergarten, as it is the first one held in our place. The teacher is doing good work and it is a good thing for the small children. Five good hearted philanthropists did a handsome job last week when they mowed and cleaned off our public square. The place looks much better for it. Everybody that can is making all plans to attend Buffalo Bill's great show. Mrs. Electa Savage has recovered from the operation that was performed on the 20th of June and is now able to ride and do some work. Mr. and Mrs. Walker Little visited at J. A. Savage's last Sunday and attended church with Mr. and Mrs. Edson Brown. Mrs. Fanny Drummond was crossing the bridge near Lon Davenport's her horse broke through and hurt it and her also. The bridge is condemned, and people have to go a long way around. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis celebrated their twentieth anniversary Thursday, August 13. Miss Ellen Brainard is visiting at Hamilton Wells. She is a teacher from Oshkosh, and once taught in Cooksville. Will Lee will get his ice from Madison, if he has any, hereafter, as he cannot get any nearer, and his ice house is empty.

CLINTON MOURNS J. O. MAYBERRY.

Man Who Died Suddenly Was Much Respected—Other News.

Clinton, Aug. 13.—Jacob O. Mayberry, another one of Clinton's promising young business men, died Monday morning, August 10, at his home, after but five days sickness of quinsy. Mr. Mayberry was thirty-three years and five months old at the time of his death. He leaves a young wife and one daughter, Hazel, four years old to mourn his death. Up to about two years ago he was a member of the firm of Mayberry & Watts, in the butcher business. Since that time he had been in the undertaking business of which he was making a success. Among his associates he was held in the highest esteem and was a member of the Congregational church. Mr. Mayberry was a member of Adolphus Camp No. 374 Modern Woodmen of America, and carried $3,000 life insurance. Owing to a diphtheria scare the funeral was private Tuesday morning. Rev. Moon of the Congregational church conducted short services at the grave. Hon. S. S. Jones, James Jones, James Selkirk and S. M. Fisher acted as pall bearers. Memorial services, Mr. Mayberry will be held under the auspices of the M. W. A. in the near future, of which notice will be given later. R. W. Cheever transacted business at Fulton, Ill., last Monday. Thompson and family have returned to Chicago. The Wyman house is receiving a new coat of paint. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon of Davenport, Ia. are the guests of S. M. Fisher and family. George R. Davis, and family, undertaker of the well known undertaking place here, was called here by the death of Mr. Mayberry, on Monday morning. Mr. Davis is one of the best in his profession. H. O. week, has recovered from the past week's illness. Work in the gone to work in the past week. A depot is being removed. Baptist pastor in town says we had one doctor in town, and three doctors diphtheria we have.

not. Village Marshal Earle transacted business in Janesville last Monday.

FAIRFIELD STOCK DIED OF HEAT

Horses and Hogs Succumb to the "Spell of Weather."

Fairfield, Aug. 13.—Horace Wilkins lost one of his best work horses, by the extreme heat last week. H. Bowdish also lost five hogs from the same cause. Miss Grace Blanchard and sister of Delavan, were guests at J. Dykeman's last week. Quarterly meeting at the M. E. church next Sunday p. m. Mrs. Spear and daughter Cora of Janesville, spent a week with relatives at this place. Mrs. Fred Bennett of Duluth, Minn., spent last week at J. C. Sail's. The hail on Sunday, did some damage to corn, south of the village. Saturday afternoon, little Ura Brown had the misfortune to fall from a swing and break her arm. The carpenters are putting the finishings on J. T. Cutter's new house. It will be the finest and most complete residence in this vicinity. Much credit is due the builders, Yarmark & McFarlan, of Hebron, for their skillful workmanship. A little child of R. Brockway was very ill last Sunday, caused by eating cucumbers.

TRAVELING MEN FORM CLUBS.

Organized To Forward the Cause of McKinley and Hobart.

The executive committee of commercial travelers of the United States are at work, pushing their organization. The following letter has been sent broadcast over the country:

DEAR BROTHER TRAVELER: We take this means of informing you that the national republican executive committee have recognized the commercial men in this campaign as never before, having established a department, to be known as the National Executive Committee of Commercial Travelers of the United States.

They have placed at the head of this department G. J. Corey, an old traveler, who has had years of experience on the road, visiting all sections of the country. The other members of the committee are old travelers, and familiar with the valuable work which can be done by commercial men.

We invite the traveling men to organize wherever they can, and suggest that they name their clubs "Commercial McKinley Clubs."

We invite all travelers, regardless of former party affiliations, to become members of the Commercial McKinley Club No. 1, of Chicago, and unite with us in an effort to maintain the financial integrity of our country.

Major McKinley fully appreciates the great influence the commercial men exert, and Mr. Hanna believes that very effective work will be done by this great army of ambassadors of commerce in this campaign, which presents the most important business issues since 1860.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and if there ever was a time when we should be vigilant, it is now. With this spirit prevailing in our organization, we shall win a great and glorious victory in November.

We are going to Canton, August 28, to visit Major McKinley, and desire to make this the greatest demonstration of the campaign. Please arrange to either go with us or meet us there.

For information address G. J. Corey, chairman, room 42, Auditorium.

This was signed by N. S. Florsheim, secretary, and G. J. Corey, chairman; G. J. Reed, Charles MacDonald, H. B. Parker, G. W. Powell and H. H. Osgood.

COUNTY ASYLUM IS WELL KEPT

The State Board of Health Officers Make an Inspection.

In the interest of the State Board of Health, Dr. Q. O. Sutherland, of this city, and Dr. Wingate, of Milwaukee, recently made an investigation of the general sanitary condition of the county asylum, and their report is a most flattering one. The report says that the ventilating system could hardly be improved upon; and the best of wholesome food is used, while the rooms are all kept as neat and clean as one would wish.

R. J. WHITTON IS MARRIED

Ceremony Was Performed at Baltimore Where His Bride Resided.

R. J. Whitton, chief of the Supply department at Washington, D. C. and formerly of this city, was married yesterday to Miss Laura McNamee of Baltimore, Md. The ceremony was performed at St. Matthew's church, Washington. They left on a trip to Canada and Lake George. The many Janesville friends of the groom will extend their well wishes.

ROUP IS KILLING THE CHICKENS

Flocks in the Country Are Dying By the Score

The chicken disease known as roup is getting in its deadly work throughout Rock county. Fred Vankirk of Center, is numbered among the heavy losers, and reports that cut of his once healthy flock of 300 he has but 150 left. The disease seems to take hold of the birds all at once and their heads first present a swelled and puffed up appearance. Then they die.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or unfavorable circumstances; Dr. Williams' Little Early Risers will speedily cure them all. C. D. Stevens.

RAILWAY MEN POST NOTICES

Comment on the Effect of Free Coinage on Their Wages

Progressive and intelligent railway men who are studying the money question and see the effect that free silver coinage would have upon wages and prices, are posting in their cars, this:

NOTICE.

The Interstate Commerce law compels the posting in a conspicuous place of all schedules of rates and fares, for the information of the public. This is not a schedule of rates or fares, but a statement of my personal feelings for being opposed to the free coinage of silver:

1. Because my present pay won't enable me to buy everything on earth and I have no desire to have that pay cut in two.
2. Because I prefer to have what few dollars I earn worth 100 cents a piece, not 53 cents.
3. Because I do not see why I should be any better off if the price of everything I had to buy was doubled.
4. Because I have no idea that it would profit me if the whole country went bankrupt.
5. Because, though the rate may now be 16 men out of work to 1 who has a job, I have no desire to swell the ratio by turning tramp myself.
6. Because, though I do not happen to be the general manager of this road, I am no blooming fool.

THE RAILWAYS WILL FIGHT IT

Refuse to Accept The Ruling of The Post Office Department.

Railroad companies will pay but little attention to the order of Postmaster General Wilson, to the effect that letters pertaining to railroad business cannot be carried on the trains unless bearing the United States stamp and on government mail trains. To comply with this ruling would mean a hardship to all railroads and they do not propose to obey it. On the contrary they will fight it to the end.

THEY WANT NO FREE SILVER.

Beloit Free Press Takes Another Significant "Straw Vote."

The Beloit Free Press has polled another factory on the financial issue, and says: A ballot on the free silver question was taken by the employees of Fairbanks, Morse & Co., 265 men voting. It was a secret ballot, for to each voter was given two ballots, one being "For Free Silver" and "Against Free Silver," and the ballots were all deposited by the voters in a box prepared to receive them. 265 votes were cast, of which twenty-nine were "For Free Silver," and 236 "Against Free Silver." Only 10 for Free Silver! Yes, there is a tidal wave sweeping over the country, but instead of being a tidal wave that will carry Free Silver Bryan into the presidential chair, it is a tidal wave that will bury the advocates of base money so deep that never again will men in this country dare to champion the cause of national repudiation and national dishonor, and seek to lead men to their own undoing.

JOE WAGGONER GOT A DUCKING

Lost His Balance While Landing a Big Catfish Yesterday.

Joseph T. Waggoner, the popular second hand dealer, was pulled into the depths of Rock river yesterday by a mammoth fish. Mr. Waggoner was fishing in the rear of the East Side engine house, when all at once he felt a strong tugging at his line. In his endeavor to land the prize Mr. Waggoner fell into the river, but he managed to reach the shore in safety but minus both fish and line.

THE FILLED CHEESE PROBATION

Dealers In the Article Must Get It Out of the Way By September 4.

Internal revenue officials are notifying all dealers in filled cheese that the new law regarding that article will go into effect September 4 and that if they have any on hand at that date they must pay the tax on it and comply with the other regulations. The tax is 1 cent a pound and the retailer dealer must pay an annual fee of $8. The cheese must be stamped top and bottom and around the outside in black letters and the retailer must also display a sign with letters six inches long: "Filled Cheese Sold Here." Failure to comply with these regulations renders the dealer liable to a fine of $50 and the cheese to confiscation. The largest filled cheese business has been done in northern Illinois, where 15,000,000 pounds were made last year, 3,000,000 of which were exported. The new law will effectively prohibit the local trade, but it is likely that the stuff will still be made for export.

THEY WANT TO BUY ICE HERE

Local Firms Are Solicited To Sell by Outside Dealers.

Ice dealers report that the hot weather of late has nearly doubled the demand. In a number of outside cities prices have been raised, and Janesville dealers have received calls from Beloit and Rockford parties, asking for prices on carload shipments. If the present weather keeps up, however, home trade will utilize the full supply.

NEW OATS ARE NOT VERY GOOD

Crop Is Large, But the Quality Is Said To Be Poor.

New oats are a disappointment in the matter of quality, very few crops being excellent. Of 200 carloads offered in Chicago the prices on a small portion were quoted. With the prospects so good for a corn crop, the prices on oats are liable to rule very low again this fall.

THE TURN OF LIFE.

THE MOST CRITICAL PERIOD IN THE LIFE OF A WOMAN.

Experience of Mrs. Kelly, of Patchogue, Long Island.

There is no period in woman's earthly career which she approaches with so much anxiety as the "change of life." Yet during the past twenty years women have learned much from a woman.

It is safe to say that women who prepare themselves for the eventful period, pass through it much easier than in the past.

There is but one course to pursue to subdue the nervous complications, and prepare the system for the change. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be used.

It is well for those approaching this time, to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She has the experience of years to aid her in advising. She will charge you nothing.

She helped this woman, who says:—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my family ten years, with the best results. Some time ago my daughter had catarrh of the womb, and it entirely cured her. I was approaching the "change of life," and was in a deplorable condition. My womb had fallen, and the bearing-down pains and backache were terrible, and kidneys affected.

"I began taking the Compound, and my pains ceased. I consider it the strong bridge between sickness and health, and recommend it to everybody I meet who needs it."—Mrs. L. KELLY, Patchogue, L. I.

We Never Guess.

When we say we are selling goods cheap—est we are not guessing. We KNOW it. When we say in simple English, "You never saw goods so low before," we don't surmise. We are positive!

When we say that today we are offering the best Wash Goods bargain of the whole season we are not trifling with the truth.

Dainty Dainties at 7 1-2c.

Some of them are of a twenty cent retail value, but a very recent visit to the market landed them at our doors at our own price, and they are yours at just a trifle more. There are plain lace stripes of pink, blue, lavender and cream and many beautiful designs and patterns which have not been shown in Janesville's market this season. Just think of the price---7½ cents, and 10 yards is a pattern; 75 cents for a nobby summer dress. There are 40 pieces in the lot and you will be agreeably surprised when you see them. Take us at our word and come prepared

Shirt Waists--

The 39 cent price is fast clearing them out, and of the 20 dozen we had at the start half are gone.

Children's Wash Dresses

of print and of gingham; ages 2 to 10, and prices from 23 cents up. Don't trouble to make them up when you can buy them as cheap as we sell them.

A motto for working men and women:

"A dollar's worth of dollar for a dollar's worth of work."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1436—Alleged date of the first known printing with movable types.

1704—Battle of Blenheim.

"Now tell us all about the war

And what they fought each other for."

"Why, that I cannot tell, said he.

"But 'twas a famous victory."

The battle of Blenheim, in Bavaria, was fought between the Austrian and English troops on one side, under the Duke of Marborough and Prince Eugene, and the French and Bavarians, on the other side, led by Marshal Tallart and the Elector of Bavaria. The latter was defeated, much to the discomfort of the ambitious Louis

XIV.

1808—Beginning of an earthquake in Central America which within two days destroyed four cities and the fleets along the entire coast; deaths computed at 40,000.

1888—Von Moltke retired from the head of the German army.

1893—Fire destroyed 200 houses, besides mills and lumber yards in Milwaukee; loss, $2, 000,000.

1895—Dr. William Dean, noted Baptist missionary among the orientals, died at San Diego,

Cal.; born 1808.

Assembly District Convention.

The republican Second Assembly District

Convention of Rock county is hereby called to meet at the Patrons of Husbandry hall in Mil-lition Junction, Wis., Thursday, August 20, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the assembly for the Second Assembly District of Rock county, and transact any other business that may properly come before the convention.

The different towns, villages and cities of the district are entitled to delegates as follows:

Bradford, Harmony, Johnston, two each; Center, Lima, Magnolia, Porter, Union, three each;

Edin, city of Edgerton, four each; village of Evanville, six; Milton, eight. By order of Committee.

A. EAGER, Chairman.

Reports from different parts of Rock county agree that 90 per cent. of the Germans are for sound money. The country has nothing to fear from the sort of immigrants.

After admitting that it had no idea

its tariff ideas would produce such distress, the democratic party asks that the country try its monetary idea.

If the democratic party had shown any business capacity in the last four years people might have more faith in the plans it now offers.

Give Mayor Baines a show. It isn't fair that Jake Heller and The Recorder should jump on him at once

VETERANS AT CANTON.

They Call on Maj. McKinley—Republicans Open Campaign Headquarters.

Canton, O., Aug. 13.—One of the most agreeable delegations to Maj. Mc-Kinley that has yet visited him was that of Wednesday, when a number of the survivors of his old regiment met at his residence. They came from several states. Capt. Allen, of Willoughby, O., made the address in behalf of the survivors who had called to greet their comrade. Maj. McKinley was visibly affected as he spoke, but in eloquent and patriotic words addressed his comrades.

The republicans have opened campaign headquarters in this city and are prepared to send out immense quanties of literature dealing especially with the financial question. Some of the documents are the products of noted democrats of the land and are to be spread broadcast.

Wilson Replies to Matthews.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 13.—Gov.

Matthews' criticism of the democratic gold-standard movement has so aroused the men in charge of the fortunes of the new party that they seem to be disinclined to cease answering him.

John R. Wilson, secretary of the national committee of the national democratic party, Wednesday sent to the governor a 3,000-word open letter, in which he seeks to prove that the new party represents true democracy.

SURREYS are in great demand these days. Every man of family should own a surrey. I am in a position to make a satisfactory deal with you on surreys this month during my 25 per cent. reduction sale on buggies.

A. Taylor.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Sixteen to One? and What It Means Di-

vested of Needless Words

Question—What is meant by "sixteen to one?"

Answer—That congress shall declare sixteen ounces of silver to be equal in money value to one ounce of gold.

Question—Are sixteen ounces of silver worth as much as one ounce of gold?

Answer—No; it takes about thirty-

one ounces of silver to equal in value

one ounce of gold.

Question—Can congress alter this relative value by legislative fiat?

Answer—It cannot; the relative worth of gold and silver is determined primarily by the relative production of these two metals.

Question—What is commercial ratio?

Answer—Commercial ratio is the ratio of actual value, the rate at which gold and silver can be exchanged.

Question—Why has the price of silver fallen off heavily since 1873?

Answer—Chiefly because of its increased production. In the United States alone this increased from 27,-

651,000 ounces in 1873 to 65,500,000 ounces in 1892.

Question—What is free silver coinage at 16 to 1?

Answer—The coinage by the Mints,

without limit or restriction, of all silver offered for that purpose into dollars containing sixteen times as many grains of silver as there are grains of gold in a gold dollar.

Question—Would these be "honest dollars?"

Answer—They would not. Each dollar would contain only about 53 cents worth of silver and would be stamped with a lie on its face.

Question—Why do silver dollars now in existence, which contain only 53

cents worth of silver, pass on a parity with gold?

Answer—Because the United States,

by pledging itself to keep all its currency at par, has made each silver dollar like each paper dollar, ultimately exchangeable for a gold dollar.

Question—Why would this not be the case under free coinage?

Answer—Because the enormous increase in the number of silver dollars would speedily make their redemption

in gold impossible.

Question—Is it true that the suspension of free silver coinage in 1873 has contracted the currency and made money scarce?

Answer—No; this statement is not true. In 1883 the amount of money in circulation per capita was $18.04. In 1894 the amount in circulation per capita was $23.72.

Question—What are the leading gold standard countries?

Answer—The United States, France,

Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Austro Hungary and Spain. Russia is just preparing to go on a gold basis.

Question—Is any great, fully civilized country on a permanent silver basis?

Answer—No; Mexico, Peru, China

and Japan are the leading silver standard nations, and Japan, like Russia, is getting ready to adopt the gold standard—the universal monetary standard of civilization.

Question—Have wages generally depreciated under the gold standard?

Answer—No; in the United States

the wages of workingmen were never so high in purchasing power as they were in 1892.

Question—What has cheapened the price of farm products?

Answer—The same thing that has cheapened manufactured products—improved facilities of production and transportation and a greatly enlarged output.—New York Advertiser.

Well Prepared.

Magistrate—What have you brought that thick stick into court for?

Defendant—Well, everybody told me defense, and I fancy I've brought it.—

Mabel—I called on the queen while I was abroad. It cost me over $500 for my clothes.

Jack Potts—I called on three queens last night and it cost me $500 and my clothes besides.—Town Topics.

You've Noticed It.

"There is one queer thing about all these men who get nominated for high political offices."

"What is it?"

WHITELIGHT CLUB VISITS EDGERTON

TWO OF THE LEADING MEMBERS IN TROUBLE.

Darb Griffin and James Nash Pass Themselves Off as Innocent Young Men Who Didn't Know What Beer Was—Fruit Peddler Is Sent to Jail.

"Meet the Edgerton marshal at the depot when he arrives in Janesville this morning. He has two desperate characters with him."

That was the message that came to Sheriff Appleby over the telephone this morning from Edgerton.

"Desperate characters eh," mused the sheriff as he slipped two or three more revolvers into his pocket and picked up an extra pair of handcuffs. "All right, we 'don't do a thing' to desperate characters down here."

And then he hurried himself away to the depot.

When the train pulled in the sheriff was all eyes; and when the marshal got off with his two prisoners, he stepped up. The two "characters" had their backs turned toward him, but when he faced them he nearly fainted away.

Before him stood "Darb" Griffin and James Nash, leading members of the Whitelight club.

They gave the sheriff a cheery smile, and seemed to appreciate his astonishment as he welcomed them to the county hotel.

Old Whitelight Club Trick

Nash and Griffin had simply been upholding the reputation of the club, and telling a good story when they got into trouble. About a week ago they went to the tobacco town with their cistern cleaning apparatus, and did a land office business. Soon they were rolling in wealth, so to speak, and the desire to roll in their favorite beverage overcame them. So did the beverage itself, and soon they were in the look-up with a charge of "drunk and disorderly," starting them in the face. When they were taken into court they told the justice that "this was the first time they had ever been in trouble," and that they were "well known Janesville young men." Never before had they strayed out of the straight and narrow path, and never again would they. But they got five days in jail, and as the Edgerton authorities knew their story was "fishy," they thought it better to let the local officers know that they were coming. Griffin masqueraded as "John Dulin," while the other "prominent young man"—Col. Nash—said his name was "James Mason."

Both are now in jail serving their sentences.

G. L. Rane is Jailed.

G. L. Rane left the city yesterday with a load of fruit which he was to dispose of in the city of Edgerton, for the Spivak fruit house on South Main street. Mr. Rane, from all accounts, reached Edgerton but became infatuated with the beer of that city to the extent that he was arrested. Being brought before Justice E. H. Smith he was given a sentence of ten days in the Rock county jail where he now lingers.

When Rane did not come home the fruit merchant wondered what had become of his horse and the first knowledge he had of the matter was when he met the police escorting his representative to the jail. A man was sent to Edgerton for the beast today.

OLD BASE BALL SCORE CARD.

"Mutuals" and "Milwaukee" Played Here on August 7, 1877.

An old score card for a ball game between the "Mutuals" and the "Milwaukee," was picked up on the street last night. The game was played, according to the penciled entry on the card, on August 7, 1877. At the top of one side of the card was an advertisement.

"The Greatest Sensation of the Age. One hundred new Remington Sewing Machines to be sold at Enormous Reduction. Call at the old Post Office."

At the top of the card on the reverse side, was printed:

"Get Your Job Printing Done at The Gazette Job Printing Rooms. Good Work. Low Rates."

The names of the players will awaken "memories of long ago."

The "Mutuals" team was composed of: James, r. f.—cap, red and black. Shoupe 2 b.—cap, red. Bliss, s. s.—cap, blue. Ward, p. cap, red and white. Arundel c. f.—cap, yellow and black. Bushong, c.—cap, blue and white. Brooke, 1 b.—cap, brown and white. Morrissey 3 b.—cap, yellow. Cantillon, 1 f.—cap, green.

The Milwaukee team was composed of:

Morgan, 3 b.; Andrus r. f.; Redmund s. s.; Bennett c.; Dalrymple 1 f.; McDonald, 2 b.; Mills 1 b.; Weaver p.; and Turner c. f.

The score, as nearly as could be told from the old card, was 5 to 0 in favor of Janesville. The old team is now scattered. An old time player said today that he did not know what had become of James, Shoupe, Bliss or Brooke. Bushong is practicing dentistry at St. Louis, it is said; John M. Ward is a lawyer in New York; John Morrissey is dead, and Cantillon is now assistant division superintendent of the C. & N. W. road at Milwaukee.

IT is easy to make claims and to attract attention by extravagant statements! But, a claim is not always the statement of a fact, and what seems an extravagant statement weakens under a cool analysis, unless fully substantiated! For that reason it would be absurd for us to claim to show the largest assortment of new fall dress goods; if we did not have the largest assortment of new fall dress goods to show. But, as we have the largest line of new fall dress goods, we can well afford to sound our trumpet loud and long. Our "largest stock" awaits your inspection. J. M. Bostwick & Sons.

FEAR FREE SILVER AND EXACT GOLD

WHOLESALE AND JOBBERS
TAKE NO CHANCES.

Gazette Company Notified of New Conditions to Be Attached to All Advertising Contracts—Wisconsin Carriage Company Must Agree to Pay For Goods in Gold.

You do not have to go outside of this city, to find out what the effect of free silver will be.

The big business houses propose to take no chances, and are guarding against loss through the success of the popocrats.

The Gazette has received the following letter from the Dr. Mill's Medical Company, of Elkhart, Indiana.

ELKHART, IND., AUG. 10, 1892.—GAZETTE PRINTING CO., JANESVILLE, WIS.—GENTLEMEN:—To protect ourselves in time of panic and financial distress—which we regard as inevitable if the unexpected should happen in November—we have decided to add the following condition to all contracts made for newspaper advertising:

"It is also agreed, that should the free silver candidate, Bryan, be elected, the Dr. Miles Medical Company have the privilege of canceling this contract."

From this date, contracts without this clause, will not be accepted. Respectfully, DR. MILES MEDICAL CO.

This company places a very large amount of newspaper advertising, and, in fact, is one of the heaviest advertisers in the country.

Must Pay in Gold Coin.

Another firm that have received a somewhat similar letter, is the Wisconsin Carriage Top Company. The letter came from Deussenberry & Bond, of New York city, dealers in carriage cloths, and after acknowledging an order from the Janesville firm, it said that it would be filled under the stipulation that payment was to be "made in United States gold coin as its equivalent," thus barring out the free silver money of the popocrats.

The Carriage Top Company was also notified by the representative of the firm of Shearn & Co., of Detroit, dealers in carriage materials, who was in Janesville today, that all future contracts made with that concern, must have the gold clause in them as the firm was not doing business on the basis of accepting 50 cent dollars for 100 cent goods.

Other firms have also received similar letters from the wholesalers and jobbers with whom they do business. They are simply a forerunner of what is to come to us if free silver wins—utter demoralization to all business and the consequent loss to manufacturers, dealer and consumer.

MILITARY CARNIVAL HAS BEEN PLANNED

BIG SHOW TO BE PRESENTED HERE SOON.

Eight Military Companies, It is said, Have Accepted the Invitation to Participate in the Sham Battle and Other Sports—Date and Place Not Named.

Plans are now being discussed for a great military picnic and sham battle, to be given in this city, and it is said that the affair will be the most elaborate entertainment of the kind ever attempted here. Just where it will be given, and the exact date, has not yet been settled, but if the scheme goes through, the announcements will be made later. It is said that invitations to participate have been sent to the companies at Beloit, Monroe, Fort Atkinson, Whitewater, beside to the unorganized company at Stoughton, the Light Infantry and the two local cadet companies, and it is understood that they have all accepted. The eight companies will parade in the morning headed by bands, and in the afternoon, the sham battle will occur. There will be prize drills, and prizes for the company that brings the largest crowd, beside the regulation "camp sports" and all that sort of thing. Fire works, and probably a dance, will be the evening features, and the "carnival" will doubtless be the biggest display of the kind ever held in the county.

The mornin' hour an' the openin' flower
For the lass o' the light blue e'e;
The burnin' ray o' the noon o' day
For the man he wark to dree;
For the lazy rest as the sun gae west,
The bonnie black nicht for me.

It's sair to bide by the ingleside
Through morn an' e'en an' noon.
A weary life has a pair auld wife
Wi' the clavers o' the toon.
I' the lift I prowl wi' the bat an' owl
When the nicht's without a moon.

There are luckies three wha meet wi' me
On steeds o' birk an' whin.
There's Madge McQueen an' Thoomless Jean
An' Bell o' the Bearit Ch'n.
We skim an' skirl till the firsts dirl
An' the clouds shak' at the din.

But it's best to float in a riddle boat
When the Witch Deeb's in a lowe;
To tack an twist through the reek an' mist,
To nod an' beck an' bow,
To swirk an' sly to our ain dark king,
Wi' his takin' hornie pow!

The barn cock craws, the mornin' daws;
Our happy sport has ceased.
By the ingleside I'm fain to bide
Loathed bath by man an' beast.
Oh, it's hard to keep a witch heart deep Within an auld wife's breast!

SCOOPED.

It was high noon in the Rockies. The bright, scorching rays of the western sun stole over the ragged edge of the Coeur d'Alene range down into the narrow valley below, where they lighted on the head of a solitary traveler, tired and dust worn from his long journey since daybreak. Bob Long was not accustomed to such jaunts as this—that was evident. Yet in a measure he was enjoying it. In any event, after coming into Rocky Canyon for the privilege of "roughing it," he had no intention of going back on the venture at this stage of the game. A two weeks' vacation, during which he need not turn in a line of copy, did not come but once annually, and it was not to be wasted in backward glances. But he was tired, and the little beast under him did not possess the most restful of movements. Then, too, the road was lonely—fearfully so. Bob began to wonder how he had managed to miss all the camps, for he knew he was in the heart of an extensive mining district. He kept traveling simply because he could not be satisfied to stop until he had arrived at some definite understanding with himself in regard to his location. Now he was all at sea.

The narrow trail wound around the side of a craggy mountain, then dipped into the valley again. The elevation disclosed to view an approaching horseman riding with the ease of long practice. Five minutes later the men halted to exchange greetings.

"Hello, stranger! Prospectin'?"

"Well, yes, a little. Prospectin' for pleasure."

"Sorry to disappoint you, stranger, but you won't find it in these 'ere diggin's. Rocky canyon don't produce nothin' but hard work and disappointment. Don't even roll out 'nough dust to keep a feller in chawin' tobacco. I can testify to that. Been here goin' on three year now."

Bob looked incredulous.

"Your report doesn't agree with the rumors that find their way out of this canyon."

"Fact, jest the same. Mighty poor place for a stranger to locate."

Bob began to surmise his presence was not desired in Rocky Canyon by this experienced inhabitant.

"How far is it to the nearest mining camp?" he asked.

"Jack Doolan's is down there a spell. But I'd advise you to keep out o' Jack's camp for the time bein'. Feller murdered there this mornin', and there's a mighty warm reception waitin' for any stranger that happens to turn up durin' the next three days. Better give 'em a chance to cool off a little."

Bob's reportorial instincts took a lively turn.

"Who was he?" he asked.

"Jim Smith."

"Man of any prominence?"

"You bet he was. Owned half the claim."

"Wealthy?"

"Somewhat," meaningly.

"Who killed him?"

"That's what they're tryin' to find out down to Jack's."

"What induced the act?"

"Can't tell you any more. Jest advise you to keep clear o' Jack Doolan's till some other cur'us fool's paid the penalty. Good day, stranger."

But Bob was not to be frightened into abandoning his trip. Besides, here was a scoop for The Meteor, and the value of a scoop to that enterprising sheet was not to be ignored. Bob resolved to go on and trust to luck and his own adroitness to save his neck. The stranger had shown too much anxiety for his peaceful departure for him to give full credence to the story, and before Bob had ridden a mile he had thoroughly convinced himself that he had conversed with the real murderer provided that the whole thing was not a fake, and that by continuing his journey he would be the means of the capture and punishment of the escaping criminal.

Another mile and he came to a camp. That part of the traveler's information was correct at least, and inquiry quickly proved that it was Jack Doolan's. Contrary to his expectations, Bob met with a hospitable reception without any suggestion of suspicion. True, Jim Smith was murdered there that mornin', but Jim Smith's murderer had already been apprehended, and from the bootless feet Bob discovered dangling in the breeze back of the camp, had evidently met with lofty treatment. At any rate, some one had paid the penalty, and Bob had nothing to fear.

It made a great story for The Meteor. Being on the ground, Bob got all the details, and they needed no embellishing. He did not rest until he had the story on the wires, though it necessitated an extra ten miles on horseback to Jintown, the nearest telegraph station. But The Meteor appreciated it, and that was sufficient.

The next day Bob returned to Jack

Doolan's, prepared to continue his vacation that had been so suddenly interrupted. He had hardly entered the camp, however, when the man who had given him the main facts in the murder story called him aside.

"Say, stranger, do you want another story? Since you're in the biz you might as well have all that's goin', and there's a cussed lot of it round these diggin's jest at present. We're suspiciousin', Jack and me, that they's a gang o' counterfeiter's back in the mountains some'ers. You know that feller you met on the road yesterday? Well, he's one o' 'em, or I miss my guess. He didn't want you up here. Mistook you for a government chap. See?"

Bob grew interested. He wasn't particularly anxious for another scoop, but neither was he in the habit of letting a good story escape him. The result was a quiet investigation, eliciting proof that the miner's suspicions were correct. Several days later a scare head topped a three column article from The Meteor's correspondent at Jintown. Then followed a visit to Rocky Canyon of a posse of government officials and a raid on the den. The Meteor had a scoop daily, and The Telegram and The News felt themselves obliged to send correspondents to this interesting scene of action. But Bob had the advantage of precedence, and the rival scribes found themselves unable to get at the facts which The Meteor published regularly.

The close of Bob's vacation found him in the midst of the government raid, and a telegram from The Meteor's managing editor complimented him on his good work and requested him to remain at Jintown until further orders.

One night a belated traveler was sleeping peacefully, rolled up in a blanket under a tree, nine miles from Jack Doolan's mining camp. His horse was tethered near by. Toward morning the sleeper was gently aroused by the sudden tightening of a rope about his waist, pinioning his arms to his sides. He looked up to see four men, two of whom might have been recognized as members of the counterfeiter's gang, who had somehow escaped the ends of justice, and for whose recapture a heavy reward was now waiting. The others were strangers to him in the main facts in the murder case, and remained in the background, though no one of the four seemed at all timid about being observed.

The prisoner saw at once that he was known, but he waited silently for the announcement of his fate.

"So you're the chap who brought the bobbies down on we uns, air you?" began the recognized leader tauntingly.

"Come up here and spied into what was none o' your d—d biz and reported it. Do you know the fate o' the spy?"

The man remained silent.

"Well, they says their prayers; so if you've got any messages to wire up 'ard you better be about it, 'cause this 'ere station closes in about three minutes."

The prisoner felt the rope slipping toward his chin. Already the other end was over a limb of the tree under which he lay. He set his teeth firmly, threw out his arms in a final, desperate, almost unconscious struggle—then it was over.

The Meteor went to press early. The Firefly and The Rocket held open late for further particulars of a mysterious lynching that occurred in the Rocky Canyon district the previous night. The Meteor knew nothing of the event until the rival papers announced in headed lines that another horrible crime had been committed in the celebrated Rocky Canyon. A gentleman, whose name had not been ascertained, but who was thought to be a government official, had been found by members of Jack Doolan's mining camp hanging to a tree several miles from Jintown. Indications pointed to the escaped counterfeiter's as the perpetrators of the deed.

For the first time The Meteor's correspondent at Jintown was scooped. The Meteor couldn't understand it. Message after message, wired to Bob Long, Jintown, was reported undelivered. The Meteor's editor grew desperate. Then, as it neared time for another edition and no story came of the lynching, he determined to satisfy himself and his readers on one point at least. He sent a brief message to the operator at Jintown, "Who was that jay who was lynched up there the other night?"

Immediately the wires ticked back, "Bob Long"—Brooklyn Citizen.

The Beech.

There are some of our best native trees which seem to be systematically ignored in park and lawn planting. One is the beech, than which there is no better or more beautiful lawn tree.

The branches are long and graceful, the leaves have a peculiarly bright color, the buds are long, pointed and polished, and the bark of the trunk and larger limbs lights up the shade of the thick foliage in dark days and shines in the winter with a pinkish light under clear skies. It requires a good deal of room to develop its greatest beauty, but thrives on moist soils, and is not subject to attacks of insects. We plant its foreign relative, the copper beech, solely for the color of its leaves, and our native, handsomer tree is utterly neglected. For a small lawn tree there is no better than the near relative of our common beech. It is generally called blue beech, or iron wood, and makes a nice shaped tree 10 or 15 feet high. It is far prettier than the mountain ash or horse chestnut, both foreign trees, and very liable to attacks of insects. As far as ordinary observation goes no cutting insect troubles the blue beech. The leaves are smaller and darker in color than those of the common beech, but in shape and veining are similar.—Buffalo Express.

In Union square, facing the Bartholdi hotel, took place just after the adjournment of the meeting at Madison Square Garden a scene that outdid in excitement those that took place in the hall. Thousands had been excluded from the hall, and when the candidate emerged there began a mad rush for places of vantage, it having become known that Mr. Bryan would speak from the hotel balcony. The police seemed powerless to stop the crowd. On it rushed, stopping the cable cars and carriages and screaming acclamations for Bryan. When Mr. Bryan stepped upon the balcony there was a roar of applause from an innumerable multitude. When he secured order he made a short address, and the crowd dispersed.

On account of the G. A. R. National Encampment, which opens at St. Paul, September 1, 1896, the North-Western Line, will sell excursion tickets to St. Paul or Minneapolis and return at exceedingly low rates. For full particulars call on agents of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway.

Don't trifle away time when you have cholera morbus or diarrhea. A light time in the beginning with DeWitt's Colic and Cholera cure. You don't have to wait for results. They are instantaneous and it leaves the bowels in healthy condition. C. D. Stevens

Many a day's work is lost by sick headache, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most effective pills for overcoming such difficulties. C. D. Stevens.

One More Refrigerator

We have an Illinois Automatic refrigerator left, the only one in stock. It's hard wood and the kind that absolutely will not taint the food. The principles are different from all other refrigerators. You can get it at cost. Don't fail to see it. Lowell Hardware Co.

Theories of cure may be discussed at length by physicians, but the sufferers want quick relief; and One Minute Cough Cure will give it to them. A safe cure for children. It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. C. D. Stevens.

Fifth Century Manuscript.

The discovery is announced of another very early manuscript of the gospels. It was found at a village named Sarumsahly, about fifty miles north of Caesarea. It has been purchased by the Russian government for about $4,500. The manuscript is said to be a very beautiful one, on the finest of thin vellum of a deep red purple color, the letters being in silver with abbreviations of the sacred name in gold. It is written in double columns and with uncial letters. It may be as early as the fifth century, but the details necessary to determine its date and the character of the text have not yet come to hand.

Didn't Feel Dictatorial.

"The grocer's boy is here, mum." It was the faithful second girl who spoke, and Mrs. Hardup looked up from her letter at the sound. "My dear," she said to her fond, though impecunious husband, "I'm very busy. Can't you give him the orders this morning?" Mr. Hardup sighed. "I am in no position to be so dictatorial," he answered. "However, I am quite willing to lay before him a few requests."

From this brief conversation the stute reader may gain some idea of the size of Mr. Hardup's bill.—Chicago Tribune.

A Sufficient Reason.

Said a Dallas young lady to a gentleman who had been calling for some time:

"You would do me a great favor if you would propose to one of my sisters."

"Why do you want me to marry your sister?"

"Well, you see, there's five of us girls in the family, and the house is so small I haven't any place to hang up my clothes."—Texas Sifter.

Better Breeding.

Mr. Staylate (getting sentimental at 11 p. m.)—Yes, Miss Sweetly, I believe in the simile of the sturdy oak and the clinging vine.

Miss Sweetly—Ah, but you couldn't play the part of the sturdy oak, Mr. Staylate.

Mr. Staylate—And why not, pray?

Miss Sweetly—The sturdy oak knows when to leave.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Diamonds After All.

THREE FROM ILLINOIS.

Two of Them Got Recognition Through a Blunder.

A funny thing happened involving three of the Illinois members during a recent session of unanimous consent in the house, says the Washington Times. The difficulty of obtaining recognition for the attempted passage of any bill cannot be exaggerated, and Mr. Burrell of Illinois had realized this fact to the full measure of sorrow while trying to secure action on a little private bill which he had in tow for one of his constituents. He had been to see the speaker a number of times, beseeching him to let the bill come up, and finally Mr. Reed yielded and told him to be on time the next morning with his bill in his hand standing somewhere so that he could catch the speaker's eye. Mr. Burrell did not neglect the advice to be conspicuously on hand, so he stood in his seat, and at the first available opportunity waved the bill in the air. The speaker had not forgotten his promise, and when a suitable opening came said: "The gentleman from Illinois is recognized." A page started frantically up the aisle to get the bill and bring it to the clerk's desk, but seeing Mr. Connolly standing in his place, holding a bill in his hand, and as he came from the state designated, the page rushed up to him, took the bill and hurried it to the desk. The speaker did not in the least relish this error, as Mr. Connolly would probably be one of the last men he would favor with a recognition, but making the best of a bad bargain the measure was allowed to pass. Mr. Reed then looked over in the direction of Mr. Burrell and again said:

"The gentleman from Illinois."

Another page started to follow the direction of the speaker's eye, but ran into Mr. Graff, also of Illinois, who had been haunting the first seat of the middle aisle for more than a month waiting to bring a bill up, and this was taken to the desk and read. The speaker looked considerably annoyed, but persisted in his original intention of seeing that Mr. Burrell was given a chance to slip his bill through, and for the third time said:

"The gentleman from Illinois."

This time the page found his way to the proper person and Mr. Burrell's bill was passed. But several members smiled to themselves as they reflected on the fact that two unexpected bills had received attention on the strength of the recognition promised Mr. Burrell.

Cheap Excursion to the West and Northwest.

About the Dells of the Wisconsin.

Part of ten or more going to and returning from the Dells of Wisconsin in a body, may make the trip at half fare, with fifty cents added for each person for steamer coupon, any day from June 5 to September 30. Tickets good for three days. Every Friday and Saturday tickets will be sold at a fare and a third with fifty cents added for steamer for round trip, to any number good for return until Monday. Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

If you have ever seen a little child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always afforded by Dr. Witt's Colic and Cholera Cure. D. D. Stevens.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Harvest Excursions

In order to give everyone an opportunity to see the grand crops in the western states and enable the intending settler to secure a home, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y. has arranged to run a series of harvest excursions to South and North Dakota and to other states in the west, northwest and southwest on the following dates: July 21, August 4 and 18, September 1, 15, 29 and October 6 and 20 at the low rate of two dollars more than one fare for the round trip. Tickets will be good for return on any Tuesday or Friday within twentyone days from date of sale. For rates, time of trains and further details apply to any ticket agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R'y.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man is the man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does so. It comes through the healthy body without effort. Let them find lodgment or let them develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of giving strength to the tissues, it will force upon them unwholesome and nutritious matter, and the man will lose flesh and the more susceptible he is to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, and replaces impurities with rich, red blood.
